When a delivery comes...

We buy many things online like we used to do in Korea.

However, there is a big difference between England and Korea.

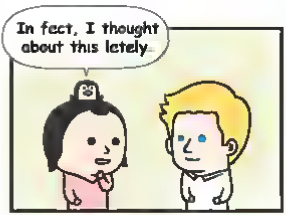
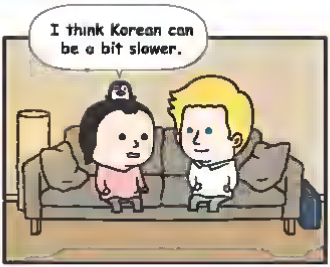
That is the delivery service.

In Korea, most things are delivered in the next couple of days with a very low price.

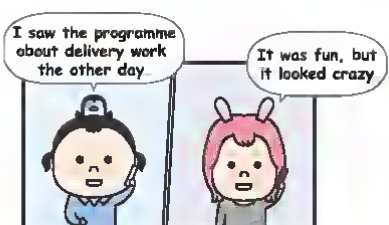
In England, a standard delivery takes normolly 5 working days, and fast delivery costs so much

The more I experienced British delivery, the more I complained about it.



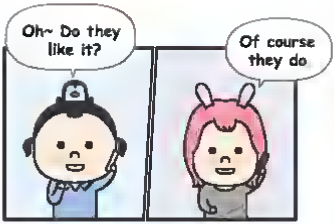


I started to realize that the cheap but fast service doesn't work easily.



After I saw a few programs about the delivery men's tough work environment,...

.... I felt that we actually had to appreciate them for it.



I found that my family show their little gratitude that way.

Ah! I have something to receive today,
but I think I've nothing to give him

Ah~ so you give them nothing sometimes.
Yeap Aww, today's package would be quite heavy one.

All I can give you...

What do you think?

Shut up.
